No Matter What

THINK ABOUT THIS:

No Matter What is a series that celebrates the best news of the Easter season: the fact that Jesus' death and resurrection shows us just how much we're loved, valued, and forgiven by God, no matter what! Because middle schoolers developmentally have a hard time understanding abstract concepts, narratives or examples are helpful in making those concepts more concrete. That's why in this series, we look at the lives and stories of three different Biblical figures to illustrate the way in which something that may be hard to grasp (like the resurrection of Jesus) impacts their lives in big ways today.

Week One

1 John 4:9-10

Easter reminds us we're loved no matter what.

Week Two

John 20:11-13; John 20-14-16; John 20:17-18

Easter reminds us we're important no matter what.

Week Three

John 21:15-17

Easter reminds us we're forgiven no matter what.

REMEMBER THIS

"This is real love—not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as a sacrifice to take away our sins."

1 John 4:10, NLT

DAILY CUES

Morning Time

Remind your middle schooler that they're loved no matter what. Write the message, "You are loved no matter what," on a mirror, a sticky note, or somewhere they'll see it often. Let it serve as a reminder that in your family, everyone is loved no matter what!

Drive Time

Get an idea of who is speaking into the life of your kid by asking them who makes them feel important. Simply asking, "Who made you feel important this week?" will give you insight into the people whose voices your middle schooler is listening to and valuing in their lives right now.

Meal Time

Read 1 John 4:9-10 NLT together as a family. Then, personalize the passage to your family by putting in the phrase "our family" or your family's last name throughout. Post it where you all can see it in your home to remind you of the way God's love is real and personal to each of you.

Bed Time

Extending forgiveness isn't easy for a lot of us. And asking for it? That's even harder! Lead by example by asking your kid for forgiveness the next time you realize you've made a mistake. Acknowledge what you did wrong, apologize, and ask for their forgiveness. This will not only set the example for your kid on how to do the same, but it will set you up to have conversations about forgiveness together in the future.
